ABOUT THE STATE.

Items of Interest Gleaned from Our Exchanges.

Agnes King, the Burlington girl who had part of her scalp torn out together with a handful of hair by becoming caught in the shafting at the Queen City cotton mills, is able to be about again.

Mrs. Julia Margaret Godfrey of Burlington died at that city Monday, of tuberculosis. She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Flynn of Burlington. She is survived by her husband and two children, Maur and William. The funeral was held this morning from St. Mary's Cathedral.

The shoe store which has been conducted by Samuel Levin in Burlington, opposite the police station, has been closed in favor of a mortgage held by Isaac Perleman to the amount of $1,100. The stock is reported to be valued at $1,400. Mr. Perleman will sell the stock at auction.

Mrs. John Beatty of Burlington was severely burned about the hands while trying to extinguish a blaze in a closet at her home Monday night. Her little girl had gone into the closet with a lighted lamp and her clothes had caught fire but in so doing she was badly burned.

A double wedding occurred in Essex Junction at the church of the Holy Family. The contracting parties were Miss Josephine Dague of Essex Center, Richard Hanbury of Winoski, and George Dague of Essex Center. A wedding breakfast was served at the home of Eli Dague, the father of Mrs. Hanbury and George Dague.

The Winoski board of health has been notified by the state board that the state board does not consider it justifiable to prohibit the cutting of ice on Gill pond as a petition signed by 30 citizens of Winoski had asked. The board did not consider that this practice diminishes perceptibly the water supply. It urged that the village secure a water system sufficient for all purposes, including fire protection. The board did not approve of the plan of drawing water from the Winoski river for fire fighting.

Pascal Ricci, a special policeman, has been summoned to appear before a justice of the peace Friday to answer to a charge of selling liquor without a license. It is claimed that he has sold liquor at his bakery, particularly Sundays. The license commissioners have taken testimony and have turned the matter over to State Attorney Robert A. Lawrence. It is claimed on behalf of Ricci that he has given information to the authorities that has aided them in prosecuting Italian violators of the liquor law and that this charge against him is prompted by a desire to secure revenge.

Captain John Conklin, formerly in command of the 23rd battery at Fort Ethan Allen has recently been detached from that battery and ordered to the Philippines for duty. Captain Conklin has been very popular with his men and on Monday evening when Captain Conklin was at retreat for the last time, first sergeant Francis Parker of the 23rd battery stepped forward and in a few fitting remarks in behalf of the men of the battery, presented to Captain Conklin, for Mrs. Conklin a handsome diamond ring. Mrs. Conklin not being present the captain responded for her thanking the men of his battery for their gift and saying that he was proud of them and wished that the other soldiers of the Philippines included the 23rd battery.

Walked Miles Without Boots.

John Marlowe, a lumberman employed by Joseph Kilgus at the latter's camp in Somerset, worked on a side-way with his feet insufficiently protected and as a result both feet were badly frozen. Marlowe made light of his injuries and tried to work. Then he tried doctoring the feet himself and finally, after a week had elapsed and the men, boys and girls in a very bad state, he started and walked the twelve or fifteen miles to Wilmington with his feet bound up in cloth. His suffering must have been indescribable for his feet were raw and bleeding, but he managed to get to Mrs. Boynton's boarding house. Doctor Dunn was called and found Marlowe's feet in a dreadful condition. They were treated and Marlowe is likely to escape without the loss of even a toe—a result a good deal more fortunate than he had any good reason to expect.

But Bill Wasn't There.

A Western Kansas paper tells of a local merchant, Bill Jones, who came to Kansas City several weeks ago to buy a new stock of goods. They were shipped promptly and reached home before Jones did. When the boxes were delivered at his store his wife happened to look at the largest and uttering a loud cry called for a lantern. A neighbor, hearing the scream, rushed to her assistance and asked what was the matter. Mrs. Jones, pale and faint, pointed to an inscription on the box, which read as follows: "Bill inside."—Kansas City Journal.

The Coming Aristocracy.

Visitor (inquisitive)—Who is that distinguished looking convict?
Warden—He is known here as No. 1147.
Visitor—He seems to hold himself aloof from his fellows.
Warden—Yes; you can hardly expect him to associate with the common herd. His trial cost the state $306,000.—Chicago Tribune.

Blocked.

Kadley—Why didn't you introduce me to that stunning Miss Poesha when you were with her on the avenue yesterday?
Kadley—You see I am not speaking to you as I passed.
Kadley—Yes, but Miss Poesha saw you and spoke to me first.—Philadelphia Press.

Wanted the Money.

"Why don't you demand $50,000 instead of $5,000," said the lawyer.
"Oh, because," explained the lady of the house of promise suit. "Then he might change his mind and want to marry me."—Detroit Free Press.

GOT HIS HAIR BACK.

Was Perfectly Bald When He Started to Use Newbro's Herpicide.
Frederick Manuelli, Maryland block, Butte, Montana, bought a bottle of Newbro's Herpicide, April 6, '05, and began to use it for entire baldness. The hair follicles in his scalp were not dead and in 20 days he writes, "and today my hair is as thick and luxuriant as any one could wish." Newbro's Herpicide works on an old principle and with a new discovery—destroy the cause and you remove the effect. Herpicide destroys the germ that causes dandruff, falling hair, and finally baldness, so that with the cause gone the effect cannot remain. Stops falling hair at once and a new growth starts. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

The Dear Little Boy!

"You can never tell to what surprising results petty mischief will lead," remarked a stranger to a knot of business men who were watching a teamster reload a pile of lumber that had toppled over into the street at Montgomery and Sutter streets yesterday afternoon. "Do you know what caused that pile of lumber to fall from that wagon?"

They looked at him, waiting for him to answer the question himself.
"Well, I'll tell you," continued the stranger. "It was caused by a little red Christmas berry."

The business men began to wonder whether he would prove to be harmless or violent, when the stranger continued: "I saw a small boy throw a little red Christmas berry at the near horse just as the forward wheels of the wagon were about to pass over the car track. The horse gave a jump, the wagon hit the track with a jar, and the load of lumber, not too securely fastened, started to topple over to one side. Thus so small a thing as a little red Christmas berry has caused a blockade on Montgomery street for half an hour."—San Francisco Chronicle.

A Head-on Collision.

Mike—So Cassidy was killed in a railroad wreck—was it a head-on collision?
Pat—No, bogobs—his head was off when they found him, I believe.—Life.
